

AnzeigenDaten Austria

product information

For nearly 20 years Index AnzeigenDaten (DisplayData) has observed the activities of prospective customers. Out of a small research project of advertisements, in the IT/telecommunications industry, has given rise to a company which employs more than 180 people.

Whether in the newspaper, in magazines, or on websites: businesses produce ads daily. The advertising market is dynamic, but not very transparent. Users of the AnzeigenDaten internet database, can observe and record ad placements through more than 600 print and online media, as well as in more than 100,000 company websites in 11 different countries at present.

HR decision-makers in companies, and those in personnel services and temporary work, will be addressed.
